DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 25, 27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bessinger et al. '847

Bessinger et al. discloses a method of guiding a miner and a conveyor unit through a miner seam comprising adjusting movement of said miner by controlling angle between miner and conveyor unit (see abstract, Figures and col. 3).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-24, 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bessinger et al. in view of Doerr et al. '520.

Bessinger et al. discloses the invention substantially as claimed. However, Bessinger et al. is silent about having first and second actuators to adjust the angle between the miner and the conveyor unit. Doerr et al. teaches first and second actuators (50,50a) to adjust the angle between conveyor units. It would have been considered obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Bessinger et al. to include the first and second actuators as taught by Doerr et al. since such a modification allows the conveyor to follow in the direction of the miner.
